

Banana Doll

The children in Uganda do not have many toys that are bought from the shops.

The children use their imagination and skills to make their own toys.

Parents and children use the materials that are available and the Banana Doll is made out of the leaves from the Banana tree.

This is one of the pupils from St. Zoe's school with her Banana Doll. Do you think you could make a doll like this one?

It may be difficult to find Banana leaves but you could use other materials to copy the doll in the picture.

You could add a face and give the doll a Ugandan or African name.

This will be a special doll because you have made it and you will have a toy just like the children in Uganda
